Comment with care

kmitta@google.com 2022-04-26T20:27:02.925Z

I will go further: Dont editorialize/comment in this group chat because it is long-lived.

Thanks for the reminder, Nathan.

New York team is looking festive. Nice to see.

kmitta@google.com 2022-04-26T21:27:11.615Z

fantastic!

danknapp@google.com 2022-04-26T21:29:01.376Z

Did you all do a painting/art experience? Are we going to get to see some masterpieces?

ylsteele@google.com 2022-04-26T21:49:23.940Z

No we played games 😄

tlr@google.com 2022-04-26T23:04:01.108Z

(I guess I wonder why this chat needs to be long-lived...)

agwinters@google.com 2022-04-26T23:06:51.084Z

+1, for me the history being on acts as a barrier to information sharing. Not sure if this whole-org chat is meant for that type of sharing, or whether the history being preserved for folks to see after e.g. vacation is more important. But for the Advisors chat, etc. I think history being off would increase the likelihood of casual, expedient sharing across teams.

I like the history on so we can go back to some of the docs shared, specific comments etc. I have found it useful. I dont feel strongly about it. We can always use emails for that.

jnvk@google.com 2022-04-26T23:14:07.605Z

We can also have GEARS-Chat which is a short lived version

jnvk@google.com 2022-04-26T23:14:25.805Z

but I'll also also say that I'm pretty sure that even short lived chats end up in Vault for folks on lit hold

kmitta@google.com 2022-04-26T23:15:01.559Z

maybe "since this is long lived" is a red herring

kmitta@google.com 2022-04-26T23:15:32.814Z

in our line of duty, it serves us well to be watchful of what we comment without A/C privilege

kmitta@google.com 2022-04-26T23:16:15.851Z

with that said, if this chat serves us better being short lived.. happy to change it. The idea of this chat room is to create a virtual "aisle" for us to catch up jasonlking@google.com 2022-04-27T00:23:35.557Z

without history on, how would i be able to catchup on the PET > EGF > GEARS narrative? :)

arguably, some things are better left unremembered ☺

sdaniella@google.com 2022-04-27T11:14:40.118Z

Good morning all, this is your not-so-gentle reminder that we need a deep dive topic for today's huddle.

That doc links to a "strategic pillars" doc that I don't have access to, but may also be a good resource: https://docs.google.com/document/d/1klMQqCy5-kTjDYQp84ee3cfl483qsuwnuI91WXJdfc0/edit?resourcekey=0-BoAdu_t0URfouD4gMJRclA#bookmark=id.ofjvzlg3ury4

Good morning, everyone! Excited to see you in a couple of weeks. Just a heads up, the hold on the hotel rooms will be released on Sunday, so if you haven't already, please be sure to book your room before then.

@Daniella Singleton Am I correct that the proper steps to pre-book a spot at my preferred Atlanta airport lot are: 1) Reserve with my Gcard 2) When the charge comes through, apply the same Seattle Event ID as airfare and hotel...and that is it?

sdaniella@google.com 2022-04-28T18:24:27.947Z

1) yes

sdaniella@google.com 2022-04-28T18:24:35.120Z

2) you won't expense until the trip is complete

sdaniella@google.com 2022-04-28T18:25:13.645Z

but yes, you will apply the tripid to the charge

danknapp@google.com 2022-04-28T18:25:52.713Z

Got it - so after the trip we upload all receipts to one entry and do all the remaining things together?

danknapp@google.com 2022-04-28T18:25:57.821Z

And thanks!

jasonlking@google.com 2022-04-28T18:28:04.952Z

that's what i prefer to do, all expenses for the same "business purpose" in one Expense Report. There will be expense codes for parking vs. taxis vs. meals etc, but can all be done after the trip (and sometimes it takes a few days for expenses to show in Concur for import, regardless)

jasonlking@google.com 2022-04-28T18:29:38.321Z

protip: take photos of paper receipts as you go, or use the Concur app to do so, just in case you lose all your paper receipts (this...may have happened to me once) tgage@google.com 2022-04-28T18:30:42.037Z

I was about to say the same, although I am terrible at following my own advice and just end up stuffing all the paper receipts in one place. You also won't need all of your receipts, but you can't really tell which ones you will need until you start filing the report. (it's based on category and the size of the expense)
